FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Entrepreneurship Program Allows Students to “Paint” Own Experience.

Summer 2011 – Brendan Barrett, a student at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater's College of Business and Economics has been selected for an internship with Young Entrepreneurs Across America. As an intern Barrett will be managing his own branch for Student Painter in Palatine, Ill. Barrett will be responsible for overseeing and organizing all of the work done by the branch in addition to its marketing and sales efforts throughout the entire spring and summer of 2011.

Student Painter of Palatine, the branch that Barrett will be managing, “Is committed to fulfilling and exceeding the needs of its clients through quality work and customer service superior to any other provider within the community,” according to its mission statement. In the true spirit of the Student Painters organization, Barrett also commits to living up to the expectations of those who he employs. He hopes to provide enough work to meet employees' financial needs as well as a professional environment in which to work and grow.

The goal of Student Painters is to develop students into outstanding business people by equipping them with the skills and experience they need to enter the world as confident and competent entrepreneurs. Barrett, a 2008 graduate of Prairie Ridge High School in Crystal Lake, Ill. and a current student at UW-Whitewater, wishes to obtain all that Student Painters strives to offer students. As an aspiring business owner Barrett hopes the lessons he learns from his summer as an intern will carry him forth to the career he has always dreamed of.

Backed by Student Painters, Sherwin-Williams is the company's exclusive paint provider. In addition, Barrett and all his painters are certified by Sherwin-Williams. Student Painters also provides a one-year guarantee for every job completed (two years with two coats). The company carries $1 million of liability insurance and full workers' compensation for its employees as well.

Student Painters of Palatine would be delighted to give a free estimate to anyone interested in their services. To schedule an appointment call 815-687-6015 or email Appointment@StudentPainterPalatine.com.
